

Wellness Technology Meets Mindfulness with the Debut of the RENPHO x Headspace Eyeris Zen Eye Massager

Unveiled at CES, the new smart relaxation device blends physical relief with guided mindfulness for total well-being

LAS VEGAS, Jan. 5, 2026 – RENPHO, the global leader in smart wellness innovation, and Headspace, the leading mental health companion for everyday support, today announced the debut of the RENPHO x Headspace Eyeris Zen Eye Massager. The collaboration combines RENPHO's industry-leading relaxation technology with Headspace's guided mindfulness content to help people rest, recover, and reset in a world where connectivity and digital eye strain have become constant. On display now at CES—and introduced at a moment when many are seeking to recenter and rebalance their routines for the year ahead—the RENPHO x Headspace Eyeris Zen Eye Massager underscores RENPHO's broader initiative to help individuals find their flow through mindful, accessible wellness solutions. The device will be available on RENPHO.com beginning February 1 for $129.99, with additional retail channels to follow.

The RENPHO x Headspace Eyeris Zen Eye Massager expands upon RENPHO's popular Eyeris Zen, first introduced in 2025, with a deeper multi-sensory relaxation experience designed for modern recovery. The device provides soothing heat, compression, and calming audio to help ease physical tension and mental fatigue at the same time. Each unit features nine integrated Headspace meditation tracks that make guided mindfulness accessible anytime, anywhere, and all consumers will receive a complimentary Headspace membership trial offer with full access to Headspace's content library.

“In today’s always-on world, people are mentally and physically worn down,” said Toby Yu, CEO of RENPHO. “Partnering with Headspace lets us create a next-generation self-care experience that pairs real physical relief with the power of mindfulness, so people can reset and recharge with ease.”
